PRIVACY NOTICE

Effective April 14, 2003

This notice describes how your protected health information (PHI) may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

- Used: Applies to activities that are performed within our office.
- Disclosed: Applies to activities outside our office. In most cases, your written authorization will be required to disclose PHI.

Our Privacy Commitment to You.

The information we collect about you is private. We are required by law to give you a notice of our privacy practices. Only people who have both the need and the legal right may see your protected health information (PHI). Unless you give us permission in writing, we will only disclose your PHI for purposes of treatment, payment, business operations or when we are required to do so by law. CCA does not involve PHI in sales or marketing.

- Protected Health Information (PHI): PHI refers to information in your health record that could be used to identify you.
- Treatment: We may disclose PHI to coordinate or manage your health care services.
- Business Operations: We may need to use and disclose PHI to review the quality of care you receive.
- As Required By Law: We will release PHI when required by law to do so. Examples of such releases would be for law enforcement of national security purposes, subpoenas, or other court orders, to avert a serious threat to health or safety or in other kinds of emergencies.
- With Your Authorization: If you give your permission in writing, we may use and disclose your PHI. If you do give us permission, you have the right to revoke it at any time. This must be done in writing as well. We cannot take back any releases of PHI already made with your written authorization.

Your Privacy Rights.

You have the following rights regarding protected health information we have about you.

- Right to Inspect and Copy: In most cases, you have the right to review and get copies of your records. You may be charged a fee for the cost of copying your records.
- Right to Amend: You may ask us to change your records if you feel that there is a mistake. We can deny your request, but must give you a written reason for denial.
- Right to a List of Disclosures: You have the right to a list of disclosures made after April 14, 2003. This list must not include the times that PHI was disclosed for treatment, payment, or health care operations. This list will not include information provided directly to you or your family, or PHI that was sent with your authorization.
- Right to Request Restrictions on Our Use of Disclosure of Information: You have the right to ask for limits on how your PHI is used or disclosed. We are not required to agree to such requests.
- Right to Receive Confidential Communications: You have the right to ask that we share information with you in a certain way or in a certain place. For example, you may ask us to send information to your work instead of your home address. You do not have to explain the basis for your request.

How to Use Your Rights Under this Notice.

If you want to use your rights under this notice, you may write to the "privacy officer." If needed, we can help you prepare your written request.

- Complaints and Communications to Us: If you wish to communicate with us about privacy issues or if you wish to file a complaint, you can write to the Privacy Officer at 3330 Claystone SE Grand Rapids, MI 49546.
- Complaints to the Federal Government: If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated, you have the right to file a complaint with the federal government. You may write to the Office of Civil Rights Department of Health and Human Services at 200 Independence Avenue, S.W. in Washington D.C. 20201.

You will not be penalized for filing a complaint.

Changes to this Notice.

We reserve the right to change this notice. A revised notice will be effective for protected health information we already have about you as well as any information we may receive in the future. We are required by law to comply with whatever notice is currently in effect. Any changes in this notice will be provided to you in writing at your next scheduled appointment.
